

Good stuff to know:

1. Coll Alg Dual is worth four hours of college credit.
2. Adv Pre-Calc Dual consists of Coll Alg Dual in the Fall and Pre-Calc Dual in the Spring (each is worth four hrs of college credit, for a total of eight hrs of college credit)
3. Pre-Calc OR and Coll Alg OR are each worth three hrs of UT credit.
4. If you are in On-level Alg 2, or you struggled through Adv Alg 2, consider taking Coll Alg instead of Pre-Calc.

More good stuff to know:

Adv = Advanced

Dual = Dual Credit (credit earned through Northwest Vista College)

OR = On Ramps (credit earned through UT Austin)

AP = Advanced Placement (can earn credit via scoring 3, 4, or 5 on AP exam)

Calc AB = Calculus AB = Calculus I in college

Calc BC = Calculus BC = Calculus I and II in college

TSIA (aka TSI) = Texas Success Initiative Assessment (must receive passing score of 350+ on the math portion in order to sign up for dual-credit math classes)

Email alma.potter@nisd.net , michael.gomez@nisd.net , or melanie.leija@nisd.net with questions regarding dual credit. Can also visit with Melanie Leija in B102 with questions regarding the TSI.